A BACKGROUND

Fort Charlotte, named after Queen Charlotte, the German wife of King George III of England, was constructed by the British between 1763 and 1806, and stands at 636 feet above sea level. It was the largest of all the fortified post established by the British to provide strategic cover for the Kingstown harbor.

During the protracted period of hostilities Fort Charlotte was considered the chief defense of the island serving as a place of safety for Government officials and important records and documents. The Fort however, was never used to protect the island against naval attacks but was positioned for defence against in-land attacks from the native inhabitants and the French.

The Fort was garrisoned until 1873 when troops were finally withdrawn from the island. Since that time, the fort was largely abandoned until the rise of the tourism industry from the 1960s. Fort Charlotte since then is one of Saint Vincent and the Grenadines’, premier tourism site.

The Fort Charlotte Peninsula, was identified in the St. Vincent and the Grenadines National Parks and Protected Areas System Plan, as a Cultural Landmark for protection. The proposal to classify Fort Charlotte as a protected area aims to ensure that the site’s valued historical, traditional and cultural features are preserved for future generations. The site provides opportunities for research, recreation, education and heritage tourism.

As an important landmark in the cultural history of St. Vincent and the Grenadines and its ever-increasing value to the country’s tourism product, the Government with funding from a World Bank loan under the OECS Regional Tourism Competitiveness Project has made budget allocations for restorative work and the establishment of a sustainable financing and management plan.

Impetus for Fort Charlotte’s continued preservation and upkeep is guided by three (3) main factors:

1. Fort Charlotte’s heritage value is significant. It is an important icon, a landmark in the rich Vincentian history. This heritage value should always be evident to visitors, to the site;

2. Fort Charlotte has substantial educational and recreational value. The facility provides visitors the invaluable opportunity to deepen their understanding and knowledge of the rich Vincentian history. Moreover, the serenity of the site creates the perfect environment for relaxation and recreation;
3. While there is no direct charge to visit the site, it has tremendous economic value and income generating potential. The site is popular among tourists and locals alike, crude estimates reveals that approximately ten thousand persons visit the site annually. It is easily accessible, by motor vehicle, and by foot, from the city center. It is one of the most visited sites by cruise ship visitors and forms part of a packaged tour offered by tour operators and taxi drivers.
